1. ~~1.~~ INTRODUCTION

1.1 PURPOSES AND LIMITATIONS

Discovery in this action is likely to involve production of confidential, proprietary, or private information for which special protection from public disclosure and from use for any purpose other than prosecuting this litigation may be warranted. Accordingly, the parties hereby stipulate to and petition the Court to enter the following Stipulated Protective Order. The parties acknowledge that this Order does not confer blanket protections on all disclosures or responses to discovery and that the protection it affords from public disclosure and use extends only to the limited information or items that are entitled to confidential treatment under the applicable legal principles. The parties further acknowledge, as set forth in Section 12.3, below, that this Stipulated Protective Order does not entitle them to file confidential information under seal; Civil Local Rule 79-5 sets forth the procedures that must be followed and the standards that will be applied when a party seeks permission from the court to file material under seal.

1.2 GOOD CAUSE STATEMENT

~~[The parties must provide a statement establishing good cause for the entry of this pretrial protective order. C.f. Oliner v. Kontrabecki, 745 F.3d 1024, 1026 (9th Cir. 2014). The parties' statement must be specific to the facts and issues of this case, including the nature of the action, the type of anticipated discovery, and the potential resulting harm should relevant materials be disclosed publicly. The parties are advised not to rely on boilerplate assertions regarding good cause]~~

a. Plaintiff Icon: As alleged in the Second Amended Complaint, this case involves a much-needed (and much-supported) mixed-use complex in Panorama City that plaintiff The Icon at Panorama, LLC ("Icon") seeks to build. However, the Union Defendants (Carpenters and Laborers and associated

1 individuals), with the help of the Union Defendants' consultants — defendants 2 SWAPE, LLC (SWAPE) and Smith Engineering & Management, Inc. ("SEM") — 3 have prevented Icon from building the Project by repeatedly filing bogus 4 environmental challenges under the California Environmental Quality Act 5 ("CEQA") unless and until Icon caves to the Unions' demands to use exclusively 6 union labor on its projects. The Unions also used their other unlawful agreements 7 with contractors and developers to pressure Icon to cede to their demands. The 8 Unions used this unlawful playbook over and over again to dominate the labor 9 market on large projects in and around Los Angeles County.

10 Since April 2017, the Unions have filed more than 27 challenges to the 11 Project before 4 different government agencies. The Unions lost at every step of 12 the administrative process; after more than two years of litigation the Unions 13 prevailed on two narrow grounds (that the City did not follow CEQA in approving 14 the Project) that were not raised by the Unions until the final stages of review.

15 Icon alleges that the Unions are attempting to and engaging in a conspiracy 16 to monopolize the labor market in violation of § 2 of the Sherman Act; directing a 17 group boycott in violation of § 1 of the Act; and engaging in a conspiracy to enter 18 into an exclusive dealing arrangement in violation of § 1 of the Act. Icon further 19 alleges that the Unions committed unfair labor practices (for which they are liable 20 in money damages under the Labor Management Relations Act) by unlawfully 21 inducing contractors to boycott Icon in violation of the National Labor Relations 22 Act ("NLRA") § 8(b)(4)(i) and coercing Icon to sign a union-exclusivity agreement 23 in violation of NLRA § 8(b)(4)(ii).

24 The above claims raise the following issues on which discovery will be 25 taken:

- 26 • Defendants' CEQA challenges are objectively and subjectively 27 baseless, and therefore, not protected by the First Amendment. Put 28

1 differently, they are within the “sham” exception to the 2 Noerr-Pennington doctrine and are not immune from antitrust 3 liability.

- 4 • Defendants are attempting and conspiring to monopolize the labor 5 market for large construction projects in and adjacent to Los Angeles 6 County. Through their anticompetitive tactics, the Unions (with the 7 help of the other Defendants) seek to boost their own membership 8 rolls (and thus their revenue from dues) by excluding nonunion 9 contractors from the labor market for such construction projects in and 10 adjacent to Los Angeles County.
- 11 • The Relevant Market is the sale of labor on large real estate projects 12 within or adjacent to Los Angeles County, California. Such large real 13 estate projects include (but are not limited to) those that fall within the 14 purview of the Department of City Planning’s “Major Projects Unit,” 15 which enables the Department to conduct a more thorough and 16 focused analysis of large, complex projects that have the potential to 17 generate the most significant effects on the City’s infrastructure, local 18 economy, and environment.
- 19 • The Unions (with the help of the other Defendants and third parties) 20 have orchestrated a group boycott whereby participating general 21 contractors will not work with any developer who does not agree to 22 use exclusively union contractors.
- 23 • Through the use of “most-favored nation” and similar clauses, 24 Defendants are attempting to and conspiring to enter into unlawful 25 exclusive dealing arrangements with developers and contractors in the 26 Relevant Market.

- 1 • Defendants are not entitled to invoke the statutory and nonstatutory 2 labor exemptions to antitrust liability because they have joined with 3 non-labor groups, are not engaged in a legitimate union activity (i.e., 4 seeking to organize Icon’s employees), and seek to coerce agreements 5 to use exclusively union contractors outside the context of collective 6 bargaining.
- 7 • Defendants antitrust violations have caused a “competitive injury” to 8 the Relevant Market, including but not limited to foreclosing 9 nonunion contractors, higher labor costs, and a shortage of low cost 10 housing.
- 11 • The agreement Defendants sought from Icon (and obtained from other 12 developers) violates the NLRA and would have forced Icon to stop 13 doing business with nonunion contractors. The agreement Defendants 14 sought does not fall within the construction industry proviso of 15 Section 8(e) of the NLRA because there is no collective bargaining 16 relationship at issue, particularly where Icon has no employees for the 17 Unions to represent, and because Icon is not an “employer in the 18 construction industry.”

19 Additionally, Icon seeks past and future damages resulting from Defendants’ 20 anticompetitive and otherwise unlawful conduct in violation of federal antitrust 21 statutes and the Labor Management Relations Act, 29 U.S.C. § 187. Icon contends 22 it has suffered, continues to suffer, and will suffer harm related to increased labor 23 costs, project delays, and defending itself against the Unions’ sham litigation 24 tactics, including but not limited to project carrying costs, lost opportunity costs, 25 lost profits and attorneys’ fees.

26 Based on the above claims and issues in this case, Icon anticipates that 27 discovery of sensitive, confidential and proprietary business and financial 28

1 information will be sought, such as: financial analyses of proposed development 2 projects (cost, revenue, margins, etc.); budget analyses of ongoing projects; profit 3 and loss statements; and construction plans and drawings containing confidential 4 design information. Disclosure of sensitive, confidential and proprietary business 5 and financial information in civil discovery should be done only under properly 6 fashioned protective orders. See, e.g., Evolv Health, LLC v. Cosway USA, Inc., 7 2017 WL 3048651, at *2 n. 2 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 21, 2017) (a protective order 8 sufficiently addresses “concerns regarding the disclosure of proprietary 9 information”); EFT Holdings, Inc. v. CTX Virtual Tech., Inc., 2016 WL 11519280, 10 at *3 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 3, 2016) (district courts allow “disclosure of financial 11 information in civil discovery under properly fashioned protective orders”).

12 DEFENDANTS’ STATEMENT: This case involves a collateral attack in 13 federal court on successful litigation by two unions (“Union Defendants”) against 14 Plaintiff’s development project for CEQA violations in Los Angeles Superior 15 Court and an attempt to convert Union Defendants’ efforts to resolve that dispute 16 (i.e. settlement-related discussions) into an anti-trust (and related LMRA Section 17 303, 29 U.S.C. Section 187) claim. It also involves an effort to uncover the Union 18 Defendants’ litigation and settlement strategy in connection with lawful petitioning 19 efforts—in administrative and judicial fora, as well as associated lobbying of 20 municipal officials—in an effort to impose damages and otherwise deter or 21 preclude the Union Defendants from engaging in such efforts. As such, whether 22 this issue is decided after preliminary, limited discovery in which the applicability 23 of Noerr-Pennington immunity to the dispute is--along with potentially dispositive 24 issues related to whether any alleged harm/injury/damages to Plaintiff arose solely 25 from this single proceeding--the key threshold legal issue (see Franchise Realty 26 Interstate Corp. v. S.F. Local Joint Exec. Bd. of Culinary Workers, 542 F.2d 1076, 27 1082 (9th Cir. 1976), or after a broader range of discovery, it is clear that facts 28

1 Plaintiff seeks to adduce relate to the Union Defendants' organizing, litigation and 2 strategies, including their political and other policy goals and their methodologies 3 for conducting their efforts to achieve them. These issues necessarily implicate 4 Union and other Defendants' trade secrets, attorney-client privilege, work product 5 privilege and other data which derives its value and efficacy from its non-public 6 nature, including the contents of the Union Defendants' agreements with other 7 entities (which may be of value to their competitors). Moreover, the damages and 8 injury issues Plaintiff must prove also likely implicate cost and other data related to 9 Plaintiff's development efforts that also derives its value from its non-public 10 nature.

11 The extensiveness of the need for a protective order here is further illustrated 12 by the following disputed issues:

13 • whether the agreement sought was within the construction industry 14 proviso of § 8(e) of the NLRA, 29 U.S.C.S. § 158(e), which turns in part on 15 decisions by the other party to the agreement with respect to its intended 16 involvement in the retention of workers and other labor relations 17 questions—matters that most employers would not want to make available to their 18 competitors and, possibly, might want to withhold from potential vendors in order 19 to obtain more competitive bids or other financial advantage;

20 • the scope of Plaintiff's injury, which turns on Plaintiff's cost and 21 other estimates and whether Plaintiff can show that an injury was incurred "by 22 reason of" the alleged § 8(b)(4) violation;

23 • what the Union Defendants' objectives are and how the Union 24 Defendants and their alleged agents went about trying to achieve them;

25 • the extent, if any, that the Union Defendants' actual objectives 26 correspond to the anti-competitive scheme alleged and whether the nature and 27 scope of those objectives is a proper predicate for anti-trust and labor law liability 28

1 or, instead, constitute fully lawful union objectives legally insulated from the 2 imposition of such liability;

3 • whether the Union Defendants' activities are the pursuit of a 4 legitimate labor objective immune from anti-trust scrutiny and, if not, whether they 5 are justified by a rule of reason, which, in itself, turns on internal business 6 decisions and calculations made by the Union Defendants; and 7 • whether the allegedly anti-competitive effects posed a dangerous 8 probability of obtaining a monopoly in the relevant market and constitute a 9 cognizable anti-trust injury.

10 Accordingly, to expedite the flow of information, to facilitate the prompt 11 resolution of disputes over confidentiality of discovery materials, to adequately 12 protect information the Parties are entitled to keep confidential, to ensure that the 13 Parties are permitted reasonable necessary uses of such material in preparation for 14 and in the conduct of trial, to address their handling at the end of the litigation, and 15 to serve the ends of justice, a protective order for such information is justified in 16 this matter. It is the intent of the Parties that information will not be designated as 17 confidential for tactical reasons and that nothing be so designated without a good 18 faith belief that it has been maintained in a confidential, non-public manner and 19 there is good cause why it should not be part of the public record of this case.

II.—2.4 Counsel: Outside Counsel of Record and House Counsel (as well as their support staff).

III.—2.5 Designating Party: a Party or Non-Party that designates information or items that it produces in disclosures or in responses to discovery as “CONFIDENTIAL.”

IV.—2.6 Disclosure or Discovery Material: all items or information, regardless of the medium or manner in which it is generated, stored, or maintained (including, among other things, testimony, transcripts, and tangible things), that are produced or generated in disclosures or responses to discovery in this matter.

V.—2.7 Expert: a person with specialized knowledge or experience in a matter pertinent to the litigation who has been retained by a Party or its counsel to serve as an expert witness or as a consultant in this Action.

VI.—2.8 House Counsel: attorneys who are employees of a party to this Action. House Counsel does not include Outside Counsel of Record or any other outside counsel.

~~IX.~~—2.11 Party: any party to this Action, including all of its officers, directors, employees, consultants, retained experts, and Outside Counsel of Record (and their support staffs).

~~X.~~—2.12 Producing Party: a Party or Non-Party that produces Disclosure or Discovery Material in this Action.

~~XI.~~—2.13 Professional Vendors: persons or entities that provide litigation support services (e.g., photocopying, videotaping, translating, preparing exhibits or demonstrations, and organizing, storing, or retrieving data in any form or medium) and their employees and subcontractors.

~~XII.~~—2.14 Protected Material: any Disclosure or Discovery Material that is designated as “CONFIDENTIAL.”

~~XIII.~~—2.15 Receiving Party: a Party that receives Disclosure or Discovery Material from a Producing Party.

3. SCOPE

The protections conferred by this Stipulation and Order cover not only Protected Material (as defined above), but also (1) any information copied or extracted from Protected Material; (2) all copies, excerpts, summaries, or compilations of Protected Material; and (3) any testimony, conversations, or presentations by Parties or their Counsel, including during the course of depositions and in correspondence between/among counsel, that might reveal Protected Material.

Any use of Protected Material at trial will be governed by the orders of the trial judge. This Order does not govern the use of Protected Material at trial.

4. DURATION

~~——[POSSIBLE PARAGRAPH] Once a case proceeds to trial, all of the information that was designated as confidential or maintained pursuant to this protective order becomes public and will be presumptively available to all members of the public, including the press, unless compelling reasons supported by specific factual findings to proceed otherwise are made to the trial judge in advance of the trial. See Kamakana v. City and County of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1180-81 (9th Cir. 2006) (distinguishing “good cause” showing for sealing documents produced in discovery from “compelling reasons” standard when merits-related documents are part of court record). Accordingly, the terms of this protective order do not extend beyond the commencement of the trial.~~

~~——[ALTERNATIVE POSSIBLE PARAGRAPH]~~ Even after final disposition of this litigation, the confidentiality obligations imposed by this Order will remain in effect until a Designating Party agrees otherwise in writing or a court order otherwise directs. Final disposition will be deemed to be the later of (1) dismissal of all claims and defenses in this Action, with or without prejudice; and (2) final judgment herein after the completion and exhaustion of all appeals, rehearings, remands, trials, or reviews of this Action, including the time limits for filing any motions or applications for extension of time pursuant to applicable law.

5. DESIGNATING PROTECTED MATERIAL

~~XIV.~~ 5.1 Exercise of Restraint and Care in Designating Material for Protection.

Each Party or Non-Party that designates information or items for protection under this Order must take care to limit any such designation to specific material that qualifies under the appropriate standards. The Designating Party must designate for protection only those parts of material, documents, items, or oral or written communications that qualify so that other portions of the material, documents, items, or communications for which protection is not warranted are not swept

1 unjustifiably within the ambit of this Order.

2 Mass, indiscriminate, or routinized designations are prohibited.

3 Designations that are shown to be clearly unjustified or that have been made for an 4 improper purpose (e.g., to unnecessarily encumber the case development process or 5 to impose unnecessary expenses and burdens on other parties) may expose the 6 Designating Party to sanctions.

7 If it comes to a Designating Party's attention that information or items that it 8 designated for protection do not qualify for protection, that Designating Party must 9 promptly notify all other Parties that it is withdrawing the inapplicable designation.

10 ~~XV.~~—5.2 Manner and Timing of Designations. Except as otherwise provided in 11 this Order (see, e.g., second paragraph of section 5.2(a) below), or as otherwise 12 stipulated or ordered, Disclosure or Discovery Material that qualifies for protection 13 under this Order must be clearly so designated before the material is disclosed or 14 produced.

15 Designation in conformity with this Order requires:

16 ~~XVI.~~—(a) for information in documentary form (e.g., paper or electronic 17 documents, but excluding transcripts of depositions or other pretrial or trial 18 proceedings), that the Producing Party affix at a minimum, the legend 19 “CONFIDENTIAL” (hereinafter “CONFIDENTIAL legend”), to each page that 20 contains protected material. If only a portion or portions of the material on a page 21 qualifies for protection, the Producing Party also must clearly identify the protected 22 portion(s) (e.g., by making appropriate markings in the margins).

23 A Party or Non-Party that makes original documents available 24 for inspection need not designate them for protection until after the inspecting 25 Party has indicated which documents it would like copied and produced. During 26 the inspection and before the designation, all of the material made available for 27 inspection will be deemed “CONFIDENTIAL.” After the inspecting Party has 28

1 identified the documents it wants copied and produced, the Producing Party must 2 determine which documents, or portions thereof, qualify for protection under this 3 Order. Then, before producing the specified documents, the Producing Party must 4 affix the “CONFIDENTIAL legend” to each page that contains Protected Material.
5 If only a portion or portions of the material on a page qualifies for protection, the 6 Producing Party also must clearly identify the protected portion(s) (e.g., by making 7 appropriate markings in the margins).

8 ~~XVII.~~ (b) for testimony given in depositions that the Designating Party 9 identify the Disclosure or Discovery Material to be designated as Confidential (i) 10 on the record, before the close of the deposition all protected testimony during the 11 deposition, or (ii) within thirty (30) calendar days of the receipt of the official 12 transcript of the deposition, by providing the other Parties written notice of the 13 page and line numbers of the transcript to be designated as Confidential.

14 ~~XVIII.~~ (c) for information produced in some form other than 15 documentary and for any other tangible items, that the Producing Party affix in a 16 prominent place on the exterior of the container or containers in which the 17 information is stored the legend “CONFIDENTIAL.” If only a portion or portions 18 of the information warrants protection, the Producing Party, to the extent 19 practicable, will identify the protected portion(s).

20 ~~XIX.~~ 5.3 Inadvertent Failures to Designate. If timely corrected, an inadvertent 21 failure to designate qualified information or items does not, standing alone, waive 22 the Designating Party’s right to secure protection under this Order for such 23 material. Upon timely correction of a designation, the Receiving Party must make 24 reasonable efforts to assure that the material is treated in accordance with the 25 provisions of this Order.

26
27 6. CHALLENGING CONFIDENTIALITY DESIGNATIONS
28

~~XX.~~ 6.1 Timing of Challenges. Any Party or Non-Party may challenge a designation of confidentiality at any time that is consistent with the Court's Scheduling Order.

~~XXI.~~ 6.2 Meet and Confer. The Challenging Party will initiate the dispute resolution process (and, if necessary, file a discovery motion) under Local Rule 37.1 et seq.

6.3 The purpose of the meet and confer process is to resolve disputes amicably. Accordingly, this Section 6.3 is not to be used as a weapon to intimidate any party from making a good faith argument in conformity with applicable legal and ethical standards. The burden of persuasion in any such challenge proceeding will be on the Designating Party. Frivolous challenges, and those made for an improper purpose (e.g., to harass or impose unnecessary expenses and burdens on other parties) may expose the Challenging Party to sanctions. Unless the Designating Party has waived or withdrawn the confidentiality designation, all parties will continue to afford the material in question the level of protection to which it is entitled under the Producing Party's designation until the Court rules on the challenge.

7. ACCESS TO AND USE OF PROTECTED MATERIAL

~~XXII.~~ 7.1 Basic Principles. A Receiving Party may use Protected Material that is disclosed or produced by another Party or by a Non-Party in connection with this Action only for prosecuting, defending, or attempting to settle this Action. Such Protected Material may be disclosed only to the categories of persons and under the conditions described in this Order. When the Action has been terminated, a Receiving Party must comply with the provisions of section 13 below (FINAL DISPOSITION).

~~XXIII.~~ Protected Material must be stored and maintained by a Receiving

1 Party at a location and in a secure manner that ensures that access is limited to the 2 persons authorized under this Order.

3 ~~XXIV.~~ 7.2 Disclosure of "CONFIDENTIAL" Information or Items. Unless 4 otherwise ordered by the court or permitted in writing by the Designating Party, a 5 Receiving Party may disclose any information or item designated 6 "CONFIDENTIAL" only to:

7 ~~XXV.~~ (a) the Receiving Party's Outside Counsel of Record in this Action, as 8 well as employees, including consultants, staffing agency employees and 9 independent contractors, of said Outside Counsel of Record to whom it is 10 reasonably necessary to disclose the information for this Action;

11 ~~XXVI.~~ (b) the officers, directors, and employees (including House 12 Counsel) of the Receiving Party to whom disclosure is reasonably necessary for 13 this Action;

14 ~~XXVII.~~ (c) Experts (as defined in this Order) of the Receiving Party to 15 whom disclosure is reasonably necessary for this Action and who have signed the 16 "Acknowledgment and Agreement to Be Bound" (Exhibit A);

17 ~~XXVIII.~~ (d) the Court and its personnel;

18 ~~XXIX.~~ (e) court reporters and their staff;

19 ~~XXX.~~ (f) professional jury or trial consultants, mock jurors, and 20 Professional Vendors to whom disclosure is reasonably necessary for this Action 21 and who have signed the "Acknowledgment and Agreement to Be Bound" (Exhibit 22 A);

23 ~~XXXI.~~ (g) the author or recipient of a document containing the 24 information or a custodian or other person who otherwise possessed or knew the 25 information;

26 ~~XXXII.~~ (h) during their depositions, witnesses, and attorneys for 27 witnesses, in the Action to whom disclosure is reasonably necessary provided: (1) 28

1 the deposing party requests that the witness sign the form attached as Exhibit A 2 hereto; and (2) they will not be permitted to keep any confidential information 3 unless they sign the "Acknowledgment and Agreement to Be Bound" (Exhibit A), 4 unless otherwise agreed by the Designating Party or ordered by the court. Pages of 5 transcribed deposition testimony or exhibits to depositions that reveal Protected 6 Material may be separately bound by the court reporter and may not be disclosed to 7 anyone except as permitted under this Stipulated Protective Order; and

8 ~~XXXIII.~~—(i) any mediator or settlement officer, and their supporting 9 personnel, mutually agreed upon by any of the parties engaged in settlement 10 discussions.

11
12 8. PROTECTED MATERIAL SUBPOENAED OR ORDERED PRODUCED 13 IN OTHER LITIGATION

14 ~~XXXIV.~~—If a Party is served with a subpoena or a court order issued in 15 other litigation that compels disclosure of any information or items designated in 16 this Action as "CONFIDENTIAL," that Party must:

17 ~~XXXV.~~—(a) promptly notify in writing the Designating Party. Such 18 notification will include a copy of the subpoena or court order;

19 ~~XXXVI.~~—(b) promptly notify in writing the party who caused the 20 subpoena or order to issue in the other litigation that some or all of the material 21 covered by the subpoena or order is subject to this Protective Order. Such 22 notification will include a copy of this Stipulated Protective Order; and 23 ~~XXXVII.~~—(c) cooperate with respect to all reasonable procedures sought 24 to be pursued by the Designating Party whose Protected Material may be affected.

25 ~~XXXVIII.~~—If the Designating Party timely seeks a protective order, the 26 Party served with the subpoena or court order will not produce any information 27 designated in this action as "CONFIDENTIAL" before a determination by the 28

1 court from which the subpoena or order issued, unless the Party has obtained the 2 Designating Party's permission. The Designating Party will bear the burden and 3 expense of seeking protection in that court of its confidential material and nothing 4 in these provisions should be construed as authorizing or encouraging a Receiving 5 Party in this Action to disobey a lawful directive from another court.
6

7 9. A NON-PARTY'S PROTECTED MATERIAL SOUGHT TO BE 8 PRODUCED IN THIS LITIGATION

9 ~~XXXIX.~~—(a) The terms of this Order are applicable to information
10 produced by a Non-Party in this Action and designated as "CONFIDENTIAL." 11 Such information produced by Non-Parties in connection with this litigation is 12 protected by the remedies and relief provided by this Order. Nothing in these 13 provisions should be construed as prohibiting a Non-Party from seeking additional 14 protections.
15

16 ~~XL.~~—(b) In the event that a Party is required, by a valid discovery request, 17 to produce a Non-Party's confidential information in its possession, and the Party 18 is subject to an agreement with the Non-Party not to produce the Non-Party's 19 confidential information, then the Party will:

20 ~~XLI.~~—(1) promptly notify in writing the Requesting Party and the 21 Non-Party that some or all of the information requested is subject to a 22 confidentiality agreement with a Non-Party;

23 ~~XLII.~~—(2) promptly provide the Non-Party with a copy of the 24 Stipulated Protective Order in this Action, the relevant discovery request(s), and a 25 reasonably specific description of the information requested; and 26 ~~XLIII.~~—(3) make the information requested available for inspection by 27 the Non-Party, if requested.

28 ~~XLIV.~~—(c) If all Parties so agree, the Non-Party, or a Party acting on 1 behalf of itself and the Non-Party, may seek a protective order from this Court by 2 submitting a Stipulation signed by all Parties and a proposed order, in lieu of filing 3 a noticed motion for a protective order pursuant to F.R.Civ.P. 26(c). Otherwise, 4 the Non-Party must proceed by a noticed motion. If the Non-Party fails to seek a 5 protective order from this ~~court~~ Court within 14 days of receiving the notice and 6 accompanying information, or such longer period of time as the Parties may agree, 7 the Receiving Party may produce the Non-Party's confidential information 8 responsive to the discovery request. If the Non-Party timely seeks a protective 9 order, the Receiving Party will not produce any information in its possession or 10 control that is subject to the confidentiality agreement with the Non-Party before a 11 determination by the court. Absent a court order to the contrary, the Non-Party 12 will bear the burden and expense of seeking protection in this court of its Protected 13 Material. If all Parties so agree, the Non-Party may seek an order allocating the 14 expense of seeking protection in this court by submitting a Stipulation signed by all 15 Parties, in lieu of filing a noticed motion for such an order pursuant to F.R.Civ.P.

16 26(c).

18 10. UNAUTHORIZED DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED MATERIAL

19 ~~XLV.~~ If a Receiving Party learns that, by inadvertence or otherwise, it has 20 disclosed Protected Material to any person or in any circumstance not authorized 21 under this Stipulated Protective Order, the Receiving Party must immediately (a) 22 notify in writing the Designating Party of the unauthorized disclosures, (b) use its 23 best efforts to retrieve all unauthorized copies of the Protected Material, (c) inform 24 the person or persons to whom unauthorized disclosures were made of all the terms 25 of this Order, and (d) request such person or persons to execute the 26 "Acknowledgment and Agreement to Be Bound" that is attached hereto as Exhibit 27 A.
28

1
2 11. INADVERTENT PRODUCTION OF PRIVILEGED OR OTHERWISE 3 PROTECTED MATERIAL

4 ~~XLVI.~~—When a Producing Party gives notice to Receiving Parties that 5 certain inadvertently produced material is subject to a claim of privilege or other 6 protection, the obligations of the Receiving Parties are those set forth in Federal 7 Rule of Civil Procedure 26(b)(5)(B). This provision is not intended to modify 8 whatever procedure may be established in an e-discovery order that provides for 9 production without prior privilege review. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 10 502(d) and (e), insofar as the parties reach an agreement on the effect of disclosure 11 of a communication or information covered by the attorney-client privilege or work 12 product protection, the parties may incorporate their agreement in the stipulated 13 protective order submitted to the court.
14

15 12. MISCELLANEOUS

16 ~~XLVII.~~—12.1 Right to Further Relief. Nothing in this Order abridges 17 the right of any person to seek its modification by the Court in the future.

18 12.2 Right to Assert Other Objections. By stipulating to the entry of this 19 Protective Order no Party waives any right it otherwise would have to object to 20 disclosing or producing any information or item on any ground not addressed in 21 this Stipulated Protective Order. Similarly, no Party waives any right to object on 22 any ground to use in evidence of any of the material covered by this Protective 23 Order.

24 ~~XLVIII.~~—12.3 Filing Protected Material. A Party that seeks to file under 25 seal any Protected Material must comply with Civil Local Rule 79-5. Protected 26 Material may only be filed under seal pursuant to a court order authorizing the 27 sealing of the specific Protected Material at issue. If a Party's request to file 28

1 Protected Material under seal is denied by the court, then the Receiving Party may 2 file the information in the public record unless otherwise instructed by the court.
3

4 13. FINAL DISPOSITION

5 ~~XLIX.~~——After the final disposition of this Action, as defined in 6 paragraph 4, within 60 days of a written request by the Designating Party, each 7 Receiving Party must return all Protected Material to the Producing Party or 8 destroy such material. As used in this subdivision, “all Protected Material” 9 includes all copies, abstracts, compilations, summaries, and any other format 10 reproducing or capturing any of the Protected Material. Whether the Protected 11 Material is returned or destroyed, the Receiving Party must submit a written 12 certification to the Producing Party (and, if not the same person or entity, to the 13 Designating Party) by the 60 day deadline that (1) identifies (by category, where 14 appropriate) all the Protected Material that was returned or destroyed and (2) 15 affirms that the Receiving Party has not retained any copies, abstracts, 16 compilations, summaries or any other format reproducing or capturing any of the 17 Protected Material. Notwithstanding this provision, Counsel are entitled to retain 18 an archival copy of all pleadings, motion papers, trial, deposition, and hearing 19 transcripts, legal memoranda, correspondence, deposition and trial exhibits, expert 20 reports, attorney work product, and consultant and expert work product, even if 21 such materials contain Protected Material. Any such archival copies that contain or 22 constitute Protected Material remain subject to this Protective Order as set forth in 23 Section 4 (DURATION).
24
25
26
27
28

1 14. Any willful violation of this Order may be punished by civil or criminal 2 contempt proceedings, financial or evidentiary sanctions, reference to disciplinary 3 authorities, or other appropriate action at the discretion of the Court.
